Questions for reflection or small group discussion

- So far, what is your impression of Nehemiah? What stands out about him to you?
- Can you state in a sentence or two what God's mission is for you in this season of your life?
- How do you respond to the pastor's vision about those who have been scattered from the church of Jesus Christ or live in self-imposed exile from His church?
- Are you praying for our succession plan? Will you stop just now and pray for our Elders?
- Nehemiah's journey to Jerusalem has been described as arduous and long? Can you describe any such journey in your spiritual life?
- Have you experienced spiritual weariness? Describe what it was like and what you did about it?
- How do you understand the spiritual conflict between good and evil and how does that impact your calling/mission and physical strength?
- Does this suggest changes needed in your spiritual practice?
- So, regarding your mission in this chapter of your life state the need that God is calling you to address as directly as possible.
- What is your motive for addressing this need?
- Now make a list of the personal and real resources you are going to need to be successful?
- Where is any resistance likely to come from?
- What will you do to be prepared for that resistance?
